FLEXIBLE FEE PAYMENT POLICY

INTRODUCTION:

The Gautam College of Pharmacy, Hamirpur is introducing Flexible Fee Payment arrangement that would help reduce the burdens on students and their families. In this method, the student is permitted to pay his tuition fees over a longer period, normally six months, instead of a single payment at the start of the academic year. Relaxation is given to students regarding the payment of fees. Students shall have to clear the dues outstanding before the commencement of final examinations.

The Flexible Fee Payment scheme is one of the strategic steps undertaken by the Gautam college of Pharmacy, Hamirpur (H.P.) to make studying at the institution more financially flexible. Through this initiative, the college is trying to ease the immediate financial burden off students' shoulders by allowing them to pay fees in instalments. This will not only help in retaining students but will also make the learning environment more inclusive.

OBJECTIVES

The Flexible Fee Payment scheme will be guided majorly by the following objectives:

1. Improvement of Accessibility: Making it more accessible to students from diversified economic backgrounds, hence making higher education more within reach.
2. Improvement of Retention Rates: It would reduce the dropout rate by lessening the burdening financial condition.

BEST PRACTICE: FLEXIBLE FEE PAYMENT

INTRODUCTION: Within the dynamic environment of higher education, institutions of learning are constantly on the lookout for new ways to maximize student access and better financial management. One such initiative in this regard has to be the setting up of a Flexible Fee Payment arrangement that would help reduce their burdens on students and their families. In this method, the student is permitted to pay his tuition fees over a longer period, normally six months, instead of a single payment at the start of the academic year. Relaxation is given to students regarding the payment of fees. Students shall have to clear the dues outstanding before the commencement of final examinations.

THE PRACTICE

The Flexible Fee Payment scheme is one of the strategic steps undertaken by the college to make studying at the institution more financially flexible. Through this initiative, the college is trying to ease the immediate financial burden off students' shoulders by allowing them to pay fees in instalments. This will not only help in retaining students but will also make the learning environment more inclusive.

THE CONTEXT

With the current economic outlook, financial constraints continue to present difficulties for many families to afford an entire higher education course in one go. Tuition costs have spiralled to unprecedented heights, while living expenses have kept pace equally well. This situation definitely calls for revisiting traditional models of payment. With flexible payment, the college will be able to sustain the most diversified student body it has and guarantee education for all.

OBJECTIVES

The Flexible Fee Payment scheme will be guided majorly by the following objectives:

1. Improvement of Accessibility: Making it more accessible to students from diversified economic backgrounds, hence making higher education more within reach.
2. Improvement of Retention Rates: It would reduce the dropout rate by lessening the burdening financial condition.
3. Financial Responsibility: Instill financial planning in the students while opening up manageable payment options for the same.

PROBLEMS ENCOUNTERED

Despite noble intentions, the Flexible Fee Payment scheme has not been devoid of challenges. There have been immense financial losses to the college through delayed fees collection within the six-month period. The cash flow problem may actually detract from funding institutional services, infrastructure, and investing in academic resources. Moreover, some students may not easily comply with the pace of the payment timeline, thus putting additional administrative burdens on the institution and probably causing a disturbance in their educational journey.

EVIDENCE OF PROOF

Data collected from the implementation of the Flexible Fee Payment scheme indicates that while there has been an increase in student enrolment and retention rates, the college has experienced a marked decline in immediate revenue. Financial reports reveal for immediate loss in revenue is given below.

Average Interest Lost to the Gautam College of Pharmacy till now	INR 2,734,488.00

CONCLUSION

The Flexible Fee Payment scheme is therefore considered a best practice, albeit with challenges involving the immediate financial losses to be incurred by the college. It, however, has its major benefits in increasing accessibility and retention. The college stays irrevocably committed to the initiative, aware that its long-term advantages in creating a supportive learning environment and enhancing general student success outweigh the short-term financial disadvantages. By taking the needs of students to heart and flexibly changing amid a new environment of finance in higher education, the college is committed to building an inclusive and fair academic community.

Best Practice Introduction: Mentor-Mentee System at Gautam College of Pharmacy

The Mentor-Mentee System at Gautam College of Pharmacy is designed to foster a supportive and nurturing environment for students, enhancing their academic and professional development. This system pairs students with experienced faculty members who provide guidance, encouragement, and valuable insights into the pharmaceutical field. The mentor-mentee relationship is aimed at promoting personal growth, academic success, and career readiness among students.

Objectives

- 1. Academic Support: To provide students with personalized academic guidance tailored to their individual learning needs and goals.
- 2. Professional Development: To equip students with the skills, knowledge, and confidence necessary for successful careers in the pharmaceutical industry.
- 3. Emotional Support: To create a safe space for students to discuss personal challenges, thereby enhancing their overall well-being and resilience.
- 4. Networking Opportunities: To facilitate connections between students and industry professionals, fostering relationships that can lead to internships and job placements.

The Context

In the rapidly evolving field of pharmacy, students face numerous challenges, including rigorous coursework, internship requirements, and the pressure of future employment. The Mentor-Mentee System was established as a proactive response to these challenges, recognizing that personalized support can significantly impact student success. By creating structured mentorship relationships, the college aims to bridge the gap between theoretical knowledge and practical application in the pharmaceutical sector.

The Practice

The Mentor-Mentee System operates through a structured framework where each student is assigned a faculty mentor based on their academic interests and career aspirations. Key elements of the practice include:

- Regular Meetings: Mentors and mentees are encouraged to meet regularly to discuss academic progress, career goals, and any challenges faced.
- Workshops and Seminars: The college organizes workshops focused on skill development, resume building, interview preparation, and industry insights, facilitated by mentors.
- Feedback Mechanism: An open feedback system allows mentees to voice their experiences and suggestions for improvement in the mentoring process.
- Evaluation and Assessment: Periodic assessments are conducted to evaluate the effectiveness of the mentorship relationships and make necessary adjustments.

Despite its benefits, the Mentor-Mentee System has faced several challenges:

1. Mismatch of Expectations: Sometimes, the expectations of mentors and mentees do not align, leading to dissatisfaction with the mentoring relationship.
2. Time Constraints: Both mentors and mentees often struggle with time management due to academic pressures and other commitments, which can hinder regular meetings.
3. Lack of Engagement: Some students may not actively participate in the mentoring process due to shyness or lack of initiative, limiting the potential benefits of the system.
4. Variability in Mentor Availability: The availability of mentors can vary significantly, which may affect the consistency of support provided to students.

Evidence of Proof

1. Improved Student Performance: Students who participate in the mentoring system demonstrate higher levels of academic achievement, increased engagement, and greater satisfaction with their college experience.
2. Enhanced Career Readiness: Mentored students are better prepared for their future careers, with a clearer understanding of their career goals, professional skills, and networking opportunities.
3. Personal Growth: Mentoring promotes personal growth and development among students, fostering resilience, self-confidence, and a sense of belonging within the college community.
4. Leadership Development: Mentored students are more likely to take on leadership roles and actively participate in extracurricular activities, contributing to a vibrant campus culture.

Conclusion

The Mentor-Mentee System at Gautam College of Pharmacy represents a best practice aimed at enhancing student success through personalized support and guidance. While there are challenges to address, ongoing efforts to refine the program will ensure its continued effectiveness in preparing students for successful careers in pharmacy. By fostering strong mentor-mentee relationships, we aim to empower our students to navigate their academic journeys with confidence and competence.

This is to inform all the faculty members that we are continuing our mentorship program for the current academic year. As a part of this initiative, selected faculty members have been assigned to mentor groups of 1st year B. Pharm & D. Pharm students.

As part of this program, an initial meeting should be conducted by mentors to collect important information about their assigned students. This meeting will serve as an opportunity for mentors to understand your individual needs, goals, and any specific challenges you may face.

Following this initial meeting, the mentor-student relationship will continue with the following meeting schedule to ensure meaningful engagement:

1. After Sessional Exam: Mentors will meet with their assigned students at least once following the sessional exam. This meeting aims to assess student academic progress, address any challenges encountered, and provide guidance for improvement of the students.
2. Before Final Exam: Prior to the final exam, mentors will schedule another meeting with their students. This session will focus on exam preparation strategies, revision techniques, and addressing any concerns or questions regarding the upcoming exams.
3. After Final Exam: Following the conclusion of the final exam, mentors should conduct a final meeting with their students. This meeting will serve as a reflective session to discuss your overall academic performance, achievements, and goals for the future.

These meetings are opportunities for you to seek guidance, clarification, and support from your mentor. We encourage you to actively participate and utilize this platform to enhance your academic experience.
